

On Eagles Wings

Study Verse: Isaiah 40:31

*But They That Wait Upon The Lord Shall Renew Their Strength;
They Shall Mount Up With Wings As Eagles; They Shall Run,
And Not Be Weary; And They Shall Walk, And Not Faint.*

My Thoughts: I have heard the word Eagle several times recently. I imagined this beautiful bird, wings stretched wide, soaring on the winds. I thought about this and looked up Isaiah 40:31. I love this verse, I find strength in it, but I wonder, What is its true context? I googled it! Google knows everything 😊.

Isaiah was a prophet that told of the sins of Israel and warned that sin/disobedience has consequences and punishment, and of God's love for them, and His plan to redeem them, by the birth, crucifixion, and resurrection of Jesus. The same message that should be and is preached, because it continues to be true today. Ok, you say, but where does the study verse apply you ask?

Well, here is my opinion, being the non-scholar that I am. God is an amazing Father, full of love, compassion and wisdom, that truly knows a thing or two, since He knows all and sees all, right? He designed every little quirk and talent of our personalities, we are made in His image, He believes in us enough to give us free will, and knowing all, He created a solution to every problem, obstacle, or frustration we encounter, and He and Jesus paid our debt for every foolish choice of our free will that leads to sin and division from God. All we have to do is return that trust, faith, love, compassion, by a simple relationship with Him. Pretty simple, Right? If we fulfill the purpose of God, His original plan for our life, then every need would be met, it is so hard to imagine this. If we have simple trust in God, then; They That Wait Upon The Lord Shall Renew Their Strength; They Shall Mount Up With Wings As Eagles; They Shall Run, And Not Be Weary; And They Shall Walk, And Not Faint. I do not know all the answers to life, but God does. I know what I have learned and experienced and I continue to learn and experience things because I am a foolish human of flesh and bone, who has been blessed with a spirit that knows it's Father and longs to talk with Him, to sit with Him and solve the world's problems. It is God's will for us to soar like an Eagle upon the winds of life, without fear. It is God's will that we have the strength to rise above the turbulence and down force winds of the world, to have the clarity of sight of an Eagle, avoiding the threats of the predator, Satan. The Eagle finds refuge upon the highest peaks. God's will for us is to be with Him on Earth and in Heaven. Allow Jesus and the Holy Spirit into your heart today, allow God to lift you as the Eagle soars. God says, They That Wait Upon The Lord Shall Renew Their Strength; They Shall Mount Up With Wings As Eagles; They Shall Run, And Not Be Weary; And They Shall Walk, And Not Faint. God has it all planned out, Receive, Believe, Trust, and Obey. Soar with God, the view is amazing. Until next time, May God bless, heal, protect and grow in you daily, Everyone say, AMEN
